Survey on Navigating Software Documentation

General Questions

*Thinking of your general experience as a software developer: after you have identified a relevant Stack Overflow thread that you need to look at, what challenges (if any) do you encounter in navigating the information in the thread? *Assuming Stack Overflow could highlight certain information for you in a given thread, what kind of information would you like to see? *Some of the sentences you saw were conditional sentences (i.e., sentences with an if clause) that contained conditions related to programming languages, technologies, operating systems, or situations a developer would face. Do you think highlighting such sentences could be useful to find relevant information in a thread more quickly? Are there any other comments you would like to tell us?
